India-China 7th round of talks ends in a deadlock

AJAI SHUKLA
New Delhi, 13 October

On Tuesday evening, New Delhi and Beijing signed off on a joint press release to describe the previous day's talks between senior military commanders of the two sides, in which there was no agreement to disengage or de-escalate.

All that the joint release on the seventh round of talks at Chushul could claim was a "sincere, in-depth and constructive exchange of views on disengagement along the Line of Actual Control (LAC)... [which] enhanced understanding of each other's positions."

In fact, after six previous rounds of talks that began in early June, both sides already had a complete understanding of each other's positions, which remained unchanged from the preceding sixth rounds held on September 21.

India's core demand remains a troop pull-back by China to positions both sides held in April, before the People's Liberation Army (PLA) trespassed across the LAC into the Galwan, Hot Springs, Pangong Tso and Depsang sectors.

China's position, on the other hand, remains that it will only discuss a pull back after the Indian Army vacates the tactically dominating positions it occupied south of Pangong Tso at the end of August.

Suggesting a hardening of

The border infrastructure development is "the root cause for the tension between the two sides", Zhao Lijian, a spokesman for China's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, said on Tuesday stance, Tuesday's media release is silent on concrete steps to mitigate the confrontation.

The September 21 statement had resolved to "strengthen communication on the ground, avoid misunderstandings and misjudgments, stop sending more troops to the frontline, refrain from unilaterally changing the situation on the ground, and avoid taking any actions that may complicate the situation".

In the absence of any tactical agreements, Tuesday's media release, like the September 21 statement, adopted a standard Chinese formulation: "Both sides agreed to earnestly implement the important understandings reached by the leaders of the two countries, not to turn differences into over the 2017 Doklam standoff and China's loss of face, [notwithstanding] the abrupt, unnatural and artificially engineered 'rapprochement' between Xi and Modi at Wuhan (2018) and Chennai (2019). Xi's style is to gain face back where he lost it, so the event this year, and China's surprising aggressiveness has been brewing for the past three years," says Sun.

Sun believes Beijing is reconciled to having India as a strategic adversary. "Many Chinese feel that they never 'had' India to begin with. The mutual distrust and embedded hostility in the society and in the policymaking circles has led to an understanding that India was never China's friend or partner. This forms an interesting contrast to the Indian perception that China betrayed India," she says.

As winter takes hold in Eastern Ladakh, the failure of disengagement talks means the new frontlines are being frozen, figuratively as well as literally. The Indian Army has matched the PLA's induction of 35,000-50,000 additional troops to hold the front lines through winter. A logistics race is underway to provide ammunition, living shelters, food and, above all, heating fuel to enable soldiers to survive at temperatures of minus 20 degrees Celsius, which is effectively lowered by another 30 degrees Celsius by the wind chill factor.

"I don't think Xi ever got

Maruti to launch...

A crossover pitted against the Tata Nexon will also go on sale in the second half of 2022. The first of 2023 will get a Made In India Jimmy.

Avik Chattopadhyay, founder, Experale, a brand consultancy firm, said Maruti's brand strategy need not be the same as the company's product strategy. He further said that while it was fine to have multiple SUVs at different price points, the one above ₹10 lakh should have a Toyota badging, the one below ₹10 lakh should have a Suzuki badging.

"It's important that Maruti plays its game as the Suzuki badging has still not been able to break the ₹10 lakh-plus price barrier yet," said Chattopadhyay.

Amid growing congestion in urban centres, car buyers in India and globally are showing strong preference for SUVs. The trend in India, where people primarily look for a high seating position, easy visibility in the front and the rear, an upright stance and high ground clearance in an SUV, is very different from other markets, such as Europe, where there is clear distinction between a crossover and an SUV, said experts.

Of the 48 new model launches that India's passenger vehicle market has seen since the beginning of the current calendar year, half are SUVs.

The trend has prompted automobile firms to drive in new models, loaded with features at competitive price points. Maruti that presently sells models including the Vitara Brezza, Ertiga, and S-Cross in the SUV segment, is facing competitive pressures from Korean rivals Hyundai and Kia. As compared to the cars, the SUVs have remained relatively resilient to the headwinds in the market.

Theatres eye Diwali...

While the average ticket price for multiple operators is around ₹150-200, the first month is expected to see a 20-25 per cent discount on ticket prices to encourage footfalls. Discount offers are also expected on food and beverages, with bookings, check-in and food ordering all going contactless as part of the standard operating procedures adopted by players. Adding to the challenge is the 50 per cent seating cap. It means that big movies will have to be shown in double the number of theatres or the number of shows will have to be doubled, according to analysts.

Nahata says that big-ticket films, such as Sooryavanshi, 83, and Sandeep Aur Pinky Faraar are ready for release, but no dates have been finalised yet for launch in theatres. Hollywood movie Tenet is expected to release in November, possibly during the Diwali week. The producers of 83, starring Ranveer Singh and Deepika Padukone, will stick to the release date of December 25. But Sooryavanshi will move into January of 2021.

Of the 9,600 screens in India, 70 per cent are single screens and 30 per cent are multiplex screens. But multiplexes earn more than half of India's theatrical revenues, putting the pressure on them to ensure that safety, hygiene and content standards are met.

But single-screen theatres cannot be completely written off, experts tracking the market say, adding that many have opened discussions with film producers regarding movies that have been released on over-the-top (OTT) platforms.

A senior executive of Zee Studios, which showcased the Ishaan-Khattar-Ananya-Pandey-starrer Khaali Peeli on Zee 5, Tata Sky, Airtel DTH and Dish TV as a rental offer this month, says, "We are getting a positive response from single-screen exhibitors for our movie Khaali Peeli and we hope to get a release in around 200 screens across the country."

"We had an excellent quarter with growth in revenues, expansion in margins, and robust cash generation, and I'm excited about the opportunities that are ahead of us and encouraged by the acceleration in the business momentum we have seen this quarter," said Thierry Delaporte, CEO and managing director.

"The demand environment has improved from Q1. The pace of decision making has improved though it is still a bit slow on larger ticket-hunting deals."

The company's growth during the quarter was broad-based and was led by the biggest vertical — banking, financial services, and insurance (BFSI) — which showed a growth rate of 5.4 per cent on a sequential basis though on a year-on-year basis it declined 2.8 per cent.

Govt allows 20 states...

Deo said the dissenting states will discuss options like not taking any loans at all or asking the Centre to provide loans to states under Article 293(2) of the Constitution. "The same article that they are quoting to prevent a voting on the subject provides for Centre to take loans and make it available to states," he said.

A Kerala government official said moving the Supreme Court was the only option left. "The GST Council hasn't decided on Option I. We are consulting our law department," the state official added. West Bengal Finance Minister Amit Mitra said he was unsure what would be recorded in the minutes of the meeting as there was no conclusion. "The 22 hours of discussion were illegitimate and infructuous," he said.

Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Sushil Modi said though the ₹3,231 crore allocated for the state was not adequate, it will use the whole amount. "Though we required more, at least we got this much... They (dissenting states) wanted to veto it through voting. They may not require money, but we required it. They are playing games."

India's GDP...

The World Bank recently projected that the Indian economy would contract by 9.6 per cent, upping the scale of contraction from 3.2 per cent. The IMF sees the global recovery at an uneven pace, with the advanced world now expected to contract less and developing countries, including India, at a higher rate. The global economy was projected to contract 4.4 per cent in 2020, as against 5.2 per cent earlier.

IMF Economic Counsellor and Director of Research Gita Gopinath said while the global economy was coming back, the ascent would likely be long, uneven, and uncertain. "Indeed, prospects have worsened significantly in some emerging markets and developing economies where infections are rising rapidly," she said.

Consequently, she added, emerging market and developing economies, excluding China, are projected to incur a greater loss of output over 2020-21 relative to the pre-pandemic projected path when compared to advanced economies.

The IMF said second-quarter GDP (the first quarter in terms of the fiscal year 2020-21) was weaker than projected in India where domestic demand plunged after a sharp compression in consumption and a collapse in investment. India's GDP contracted 23.9 per cent in the quarter.

Wipro board okays...

That amounted to repurchasing 5.35 per cent of paid-up capital then. Jatin Dalal, chief financial officer, said: "Our payback policy is returning 45-50 per cent of net income to our shareholders and we'll choose the model that is best for our shareholders."

In the quarter ended September 30, Wipro showed a marked improvement in its performance though it is yet to reach the pre-Covid level. The company reported a net income of ₹2,484 crore, a growth rate of 3.4 per cent year-on-year and 3.9 per cent sequentially.

The consolidated revenue of the company, at ₹15,100 crore, was nearly flat year-on-year while it increased 1.4 per cent quarter-on-quarter.

In the key IT services segment, the company's revenue saw a marginal decline of 0.24 per cent over the same period in the previous financial year while sequentially it grew 0.76 per cent. The operating margin of the company's IT services business in the quarter was 19.2 per cent, an improvement of 20 basis points over the previous quarter and 110 basis points year-on-year.

Wipro has resumed the practice of giving the revenue growth guidance, saying it was expecting its IT services revenue in Q3 to be ₹2,022-2,062 million, a growth rate of 1.5-3.5 per cent sequentially.
